The Korean Institute of Criminology (KIC) will co-host the 1st Asian Regional Conference of the World Crime Forum in June 20-21, 2013 in Seoul, Korea. The World Crime Forum, proposed and designed by the International Society for Criminology (ISC), serves a platform for scholars, practitioners and other experts of criminology and criminal justice to come together and make the issues in the field more relevant and visible. Its first regional conference in Asia will provide a valuable opportunity for the participants to discuss and present on the topic of information society and cybercrime with limited formality or rigid structures to stimulate interaction while taking into consideration the regional characteristics. For more information on important dates and developments, please contact us at secretariat@kic.re.kr.
